

23th Mai – 25th Mai 2016

Executive Feed Technology Training - Lima, Peru

Summary:

Baechler Ingenieros SA invites customers and professionals from the feed industry for an Executive Feed Technology Training to Lima, Peru. The Swiss Institute of Feed technology was providing the training to the 45 participants. The course was covering key process steps and explaining their importance to the overall plant performance and to the different quality parameters. One of the main focuses was about moisture management in the production, the influence of moisture to assure final product parameters and to save energy and production costs.